PROGRAMME DETAILS 2017

Film and Supper @ the Church

For our first meeting this autumn we are teaming up with the Norwegian Seamen's Church in Rotherhithe. There will be wine (red/white), coffee, waffles and a hearty soup with bread for those requiring something more substantial. Pay on the day.

Thursday 28 September, 5.30 for 6.15 pm. Film "I belong"

Nine people go to work, compromise themselves or are made offers they can neither accept nor refuse. This is the scope for Dag Johan Haugerud's film and it is his distinctive way of observing human behaviour that makes this a beautiful mosaic of different life experiences. His intention was to show everyday situations that seem of little importance to one person but can feel like disasters to others. It's about existential dilemmas that anyone can experience in daily life, about how people who act on integrity and feelings are seen as troublesome in a society where the ideal is to behave rationally. The result is a witty and tender, hurtful and quietly confrontational film that has picked up a host of awards. The film lasts 118 min. English subtitles.

Venue: Norwegian Seamen's Church, 1 Albion Street, Rotherhithe

The tour, lasting 55 minutes, will be led by a professional guide showing us the highlights of Charterhouse, taking in the Great Hall where the Brothers had their meals, the Great Chamber where Queen Elizabeth I held court during the first days of her reign, Wash-house Court associated with the medieval monks of the Charterhouse and Master's Court which reveals the opulence of Lord North's Tudor mansion. The guide will explain the history of the site and pull out some highlights from the collection.
